ANOTHER CAR ROBBED.

The Bold Gang of Car-Breakers Get Away With Five Caddies of Tobacco. Another car was robbed in the railroad vards last night, but whether it was an I. B. & W. or a Bee Line car, could not be learned. The I. B. & W. people maintain that it was a Bee Line car, while the latter road claims that it was no such thing. At all events it was a through car and it was robbed, and whether the L. B. & W. or the Bee Line had charge of the car is a matter of small moment to the general public.

Some time during the night the seal of the car was broken, the car was entered and five caddies of tobacco were stolen therefrom. This morning one of the cad-dies was found intact in a pile of brush not far from the railroad track. It had evi-dently been hidden there by the robbers. Officer Wilson has charge of the case but thus far he has made no arrests. The robbery is only one of a series of robberies that have very likely been committed by an organized gang. The robbers are bold, but careful to cover well their tracks.

As I was pitying a poor hatless fellow, who had seized a guard by the shoulder with a "Where's my wife?" heard a plaintive voice in my ear saying "Please will you show me 57?" On look one of a pair of interesting girls who had shared this mysterious number with n standing with a glass of water in her The train at this time seemed about to start. No guard in sight to ques-tion; the little maid herself looked faint I seized her with one hand, the glass of water with the other, spied 56 and the door of the next carriage standing open. In I jumped, to find it was No. 11, occupied by two severely prim and aston-ished looking old ladies, who immediately began calling, "Guard!" So did I, for I had left my sachel in the other carriage. The girl began to cry for her sister, saying "Oh, she will think I am left behind." The Alarming Increase in Baking Powder Adulterations.

Among recent important discoveries by the food analysts is that by Prof. Morr, U. S. Government Chemist, of large amounts of lime and alum in the cheap baking powders. It is a startling fact that of over one hundred different brands of baking powder so far analyzed, comprising all those sold in this vicinity, not one, with the single exception of Royal Baking Powder was found free from both lime and alum.

Alum is used as a substitute for cream of tartar to produce a cheap baking powder. It costs less than two cents a pound, whereas pure cream of tartar costs forty. Its effect upon the system has been ascertained to be poisonous, and overdoses have been attended with fatal results. Lime is the most useless adulterant yet found in baking powders. It is true that when subjected to heat it gives off a certain amount of carbonic acid gas, but a quicklime is left, one of the most powerful

The effect of lime upon the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal, is pernicious in the extreme. It is said by physicians to be one of the chief causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the kidneys. Chemists have found 12 per cent., or one-eighth of the weight, of some of the baking powders prominently sold in this vicinity, to be lime. The wickedness of this adulteration is apparent.

The absolute purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder-now affirmed by every chemist and food analyst of prominence, and conceded by all manufacturers of other brands-arises from the exclusive use of cream of tartar which is specially refined by patent processes that totally remove the lime and all other impurities. These facilities are possessed

Dr. W. G. TUCKER, Professor of Chemistry in the Albany, N. Y., Medical College, whose analytical work in connection with investigations of the food adulterations in the State of New York has been extensive and thorough, says of the Royal

"The cream of tartar employed in its manufacture is free from the lime which is a constituent of the improperly refined cream of tartar of the market used by manufacturers of other baking powders, and of most of the substitutes therefor which enter into the composition of many powders, and in this important respect, as well as in its general purity and wholesomeness, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to any other powder which I have examined. The constituents are so proportioned as to secure the best results and yield a baking powder unequalled for purity, strength and wholesomeness." WILLIS G. TUCKER, M D., PH.D.,
